

The public airwaves need to serve the public, not commercial and private interests. The present rules need to be kept in place. Obviously, this will be a big issue in the next election and I will be voting for public, not private interests.
Barbara McKinney